Hunter, Beck Named Outstanding Seniors of Year at West Texas

Bill Hunter of Dalhart and Barbara Beck of Amarillo, formerly of Canyon, were named the outstanding senior man and woman of West Texas State College in annual "Class Day" exercises on Thursday. Four other awards were presented, as graduating seniors initiated commencement activities.

An orchestra concert was held Thursday night, and President and Mrs. James P. Cornette honored graduates Saturday from 8 until 10 p. m. at their annual reception at their residence. Baccalaureate-commencement services were Sunday at 5 p. m. in the field house.

Alice Wilkinson of Shamrock was a double winner, selected for a scholarship key by Phi Gamma Nu, national business sorority, and awarded membership in the United Business Education Association. Gladys Parkey of Floydada, a junior journalism student, was named winner of the Cabot Carbon Company prize of $150.

For promotion of student activities, Charles Boren of Kerrick and Margaret Houston of Amarillo were named "Mr. and Miss Student of 1956." Their names are engraved on a plaque, sponsored by Gamma Phi Sorority.

The awards to Hunter and Miss Beck were sponsored by Epsilon Delta fraternity and Pi Omega Sorority. They were selected by faculty nominations.

Miss Wilkinson was given the Phi Gamma Nu scholarship key, the graduating senior woman with the highest scholarship in business education. Her other award, sponsored by the Smead Manufacturing Company and United Business Education Association, was for "the outstanding student in business education."

Writing on "Industrial Accident Prevention," Miss Parkey submitted the best manuscript in an essay contest for journalism students, sponsored annually by the Cabot Carbon Company of Tampa.

Initiating the program, invocation and special prayer for rain was given by C. L. Kay, director of the Church of Christ Bible chair. Betty Anne Dean of Amarillo, accompanied by Juanelva Rose of Tulsa, sang "The Omnipotence" by Schubert.

Dr. Lowell Harrison, professor of history, was given "an award" by the Student Senate for his work as sponsor in 1955-56. The Inter-Collegiate Council presented money to cheerleaders to attend a cheerleaders' school in Dallas this summer.

Senior Class president Lawrence Overcast of Shamrock, in concluding the program, gave a challenge to the junior class, and a response was given by James McCoy of Skellytown, junior president.

Dorm Raid Was Riot - - Lair

The second "panty raid" of the school year at West Texas State College Monday night was officially termed a "riot" by Criminal Dist. Atty. A. W. Lair Tuesday afternoon.

The raid began about 11:30 p. m. Monday, with most of the action taking place at Cousins Hall. An estimated $150 damage was done to the doors, windows and furniture in the dormitory, and considerable clothing was taken from rooms of the girls.

Forewarned of the possibility of a raid, sheriff's officers were parked in the vicinity of the dormitory when the raid began and attempted to stop it as soon as possible. As an effort in stopping the raid, Sheriff L. S. Johnston and his deputies ordered some 35 male students to report to the sheriff's office. More than 100 were believed to be in the raid.

The names of the 35 were taken and they were released on their own recognizance, with orders to report back at 5 p. m. Tuesday.

The raid started suddenly, Sheriff Johnston said. He said that a dorm mother told him the mass of students who rushed the dormitory looked like a "bunch of Comanches." When the raid started, the girls left their rooms and went to the ballroom.

Several windows in the ballroom were kicked out and glass flew as far as 10 feet in the room. Some of the glass cut the arms of some of the girls, the sheriff said, but none were cut seriously.

The front door of the dormitory was broken into and a few of the raiders made their way into the building and to the upper floors, where the girls rooms are located.

Sheriff Johnston said the raiders rushed into and out of the building so quickly it was hard to catch those who actually entered the dormitory. Some of the raiders wore handkerchiefs over their faces and some had women's hose pulled over their heads, officers said.

A separate raid was apparently planned for Randall Hall, the other girls dormitory, but it was stopped before any but negligible damage was done.

When the 35 reported yesterday afternoon, President James P. Cornette talked privately with the students. Following his talk, Dist. Atty. Lair, Sheriff Johnston, other law officers, newspaper reporters and several students who were there as spectators joined the 35 students in the District Courtroom.

Dist. Atty. Lair told the students that their actions Monday night might have been "thought funny by some people" if they had confined their raid to chanting and had done no damage.

However, the damage done made the raid a serious matter, he said. Calling the raid a riot, the district attorney said that the maximum penalty for being involved in a riot is a sentence of a year in jail and a $1000 fine.

The district attorney said he knew that some of the students in the group were not involved in the raid, but had been curious spectators only. "Others in this group and some not in this group are guilty, though," he said.

Dist. Atty. Lair said that the investigation started Tuesday morning would be completed and the entire matter would be given to the Randall County Grand Jury at its next meeting.

He told the students that those who were innocent had nothing to worry about, but those who are guilty had "plenty to worry about." Dist. Atty. Lair said those needed to appear before the grand jury would be notified. He said the next grand jury meeting would probably be in the next 30 days.

Sheriff Johnston asked the cooperation of those in the courtroom in finding the students who were in the riot and in "righting the wrong" done in the raid. Such an incident reflects on all the students, he said.

West Texas State Dean of Men Mitch Jones asked the students' help in returning clothes taken from the dormitory. He said some $40 worth were taken from a girl. The clothes taken formed a troupeau for the girl, who plans to be married soon, he said.

President Cornette earlier Tuesday indicated that disciplinary action would be taken against those students actually involved in the raid.

The first panty raid of the year was made on both Cousins and Randall Halls in October, near Halloween. The damage done in that raid was less serious than in Monday's raid. No official action was taken following the October raid by law enforcement agencies. The 35 students ordered to appear Tuesday were gathered up by officers during and immediately following the raid. Included were all those who were found circulating on the campus at the time.

West Texas Graduation Parade

Mrs. Lee Foster of Canyon and Henry Eason of Amarillo, candidates for degrees of Master of Arts, led the procession of West Texas State graduates Sunday into the commencement exercises at the field house. The line of graduates marched between a double row of faculty members, headed by Dr. Oliver S. Willham, left, president of Oklahoma A&M and graduation speaker, and Dr. James P. Cornette, president of West Texas State.

PALO DURO HAS RECORD YEAR

Palo Duro State Park had a banner year during the fiscal year 1956, which ended May 14, according to a report from the park.

An estimated 130,486 persons from all 48 states, the District of Columbia, Alaska, Hawaii and five foreign nations passed through the gates during the year.

A total of 37,112 cars, a record number, entered the gates during the year. Park Concessionaire Pete Cowart estimates there are an average of 3.7 persons per car.

Since the park was opened in 1933, there have been 402,763 cars and 1,469,435 people to visit. The attendance this year was almost 2,000 more than the second best year, 1952, when 35,243 cars entered the gate.

The heaviest month last year was July, with 5,698 cars at the park. June and August ran close second and third with 4,232 and 4,617 respectively.

The lowest month was February with 1,038 cars. Oklahoma led the parade of out-of-state visitors, with 1,082 carloads. New Mexico was second with 605 cars, and Delaware last with five cars.

Twenty-two Canadian carloads visited the park to lead the foreign nation list. Others were Germany with three, Holland, 3, England, 5, and France, 3. Twelve cars were from Washington, D. C., 12 from Alaska and three from Hawaii.

There was a 7.6 per cent increase in admissions over 1955 during the past year. Concession receipts, including railroad amusements, showed a 25 per cent increase. Admission receipts were $45,062.05, and concession receipts were $44,357.15.

Cowart's report shows that 105,941 Texans visited Palo Duro and 24,545 out-of-staters viewed the canyon.

Rites Held for Lt. Don Boothe

Funeral rites for Navy Lt. Don Boothe, who was killed in an airplane crash in Guam recently, were conducted Sunday in the Dimmitt First Baptist Church.

Dr. James P. Cornette, president of West Texas State College, delivered the funeral message and was assisted by the Rev. Ray, pastor of the church.

Fraternity brothers of Lt. Boothe were pallbearers. He was a member of Tau Tau Tau while attending West Texas State College, where he graduated in 1953.

Military graveside rites were conducted by the Navy, under the direction of a Naval Reserve chaplain. Burial was in the Dimmitt cemetery.

Lt. Boothe was the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Boothe of Amarillo, formerly of Canyon. He is also survived by two brothers, Phil Boothe and Ogden Boothe.

No Replacement Named for Bayne

No replacement for City Secretary Dudley Bayne, who announced his resignation last Wednesday, has been named yet by the city commission.

Bayne, who has been city secretary since March 1, 1951, resigned effective June 15 to accept the city manager's job in Hereford. He will replace Cecil Massey, who resigned effective June 1 to take a similar position in Haltom City, near Fort Worth.

Massey was manager of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce before moving to Hereford several years ago.

Bayne came to Canyon in 1946 from Baytown. He moved here for the health of his son, Dudley Jr., now 13.

Bayne attended Texas A&M for two years and majored in engineering in the late 1930's. He then worked for Humble Oil and Refining Company for three years prior to entering the service during World War II. After the war was over, he returned to the company for one year.

After moving to Canyon, Bayne finished his college work, changing his major to accounting. He was graduated from West Texas State in 1949.

At that time, he began working for Sternberg Lumber Company until he became city secretary.

Mr. and Mrs. Bayne and their family live at 2404 Seventh Avenue. In addition to Dudley Jr., their children are Sidney, 8, Jimmy, 5, and Susan, 2.

"My family and I have enjoyed living in Canyon for the past 10 years, and we hate to leave," Bayne said.

Views and Comments

The publication last week of President Eisenhower's physical condition probably lost him one supporter here. One housewife said she had thought highly of the President, but after reading how he had his appendix removed when he wasn't busy so it wouldn't bother him when he was busy, the housewife said, "I just don't believe he's a sporting man."

The school board at Hereford was confronted with an unusual problem, for these days, at the regular meeting a week ago Tuesday night.

A citizens committee had studied the problem of desegregation of the school system, and had recommended that the schools be desegregated as soon as possible. The board apparently was prepared to act to integrate the schools when a delegation from the Negro population of Hereford appeared.

The delegation appeared to protest the moving of Negro children into the white schools. "I know the Supreme Court has made a rule, but I see a handicap," the Rev. Whitten, spokesman for the delegation, said.

Timidity of colored students, especially in the lower grades, was offered as one of the chief reasons for not integrating the schools. "When these real small tots see nothing but white students and white teachers all day, they will be troubled. It will set them back. Away back. Maybe two years. We had a meeting last Friday and we think it will be a handicap to integrate. We would rather remain as we are now—if we have no colored teacher," the spokesman said.

The Negro delegation thought it might be all right for junior high and high school students to integrate, but was against integration of the youngsters.

The Negro population of Hereford numbers 123. Last year there were 37 Negro students in the schools. The delegation did tell the school board that at least one more classroom is needed immediately for the Negro school.

The school board pointed out to the delegation the extra expense that the operation of the Negro school requires, especially the high school when there are only a small handful of high school students. It almost became a session in which the school board was trying to persuade the Negroes to integrate, according to newspaper accounts of the meeting.

The delegation told the school board they would abide by whatever decision was made, and said the Negro people of the town had been treated with unusual consideration. "This town has acted mighty like Christians," the Rev. Whitten said.

And thus, Hereford's school board has a problem. If they respect the wishes of the Negro population, they get in trouble with Uncle Sam. If they follow what appears to be the law of the land, the minority population, the Negroes, won't be completely satisfied.

That's what comes of trying to set social mores by law. If the Supreme Court had left well enough alone, the problem presented to Hereford might never have come up. In time, the situation would have fixed itself and there would be no problem.

Congress is in the process, apparently, of finding a way to tell the Supreme Court that Congress, itself, will say what its intention is when it passes a law. Within the last year, the Supreme Court has based two major decisions on what it decided the intention of Congress was.

The Supreme Court put the production of natural gas at the wellhead under the supervision of the Federal government by using the "intention" method. The justices said it was the intention of Congress to supervise the production of natural gas when it passed a law creating the Federal Power Commission. However, Congress specifically exempted the production of natural gas from the provisions of the law.

More recently, the Supreme Court declared the sedition laws of Pennsylvania unconstitutional because Congress had passed the Smith Act, which makes it illegal to preach, teach or advocate the overthrow of the government by violence. That makes all the rest of the several state's laws unconstitutional, too.

However, Congressman Smith, who wrote and sponsored the law, has said it was definitely not his intention, nor the intention of Congress, to invalidate the laws of the states in the matter of sedition. Smith said he sponsored the law because he felt that the Federal government should have its own protection, as well as that afforded by the state laws.

The actions of Congress will come much closer to providing what the people of the nation want than will the actions of the Supreme Court. The Congress will make mistakes, sure. But all those men, with their different backgrounds, will provide what the nation wants, even though they do play a lot of politics with their votes.

If the Congress passes laws which go against the wishes of the people, the individual Congressmen will be replaced by others who will do more like the people want. An extremely conservative Congress can be changed to an extremely liberal one in the time of one election year.

The Supreme Court can't be changed that quickly, though. The only way to change a Supreme Court that doesn't suit the people is to wait until the justices die off, retire, or run for the Presidency.

The idea of keeping the judiciary out of election politics is a good plan only if those men who are appointed to the bench are good, qualified men. The ideal justice would be a "middle-of-the-roader." A man who is neither conservative or liberal; who has a sense enough to know that justice should be tempered with mercy; who has a deep regard for the law but realizes that the law is not inviolate; who has profound religious beliefs; who has a wide knowledge of the history of this nation; who would watch out for the rights of minorities but would recognize the responsibility of allowing Congress to legislate and confine his actions to measuring the resulting legislation against what the Constitution says, not what he thinks the Constitution should say.

As you know, the President decides who he'd like to have on the Supreme Court and submits him to the Senate for confirmation, or as the Constitution puts it, "the advice and consent" of the Senate.

The President and the Senate might evade their responsibility if the people do not demand that they do the right thing. And the right thing is definitely not the practice of appointing politicians to the bench. Just because a man has been successful as a politician and has held high offices in the nation does not make him a good jurist.

We've got to demand that the right men be appointed to the Supreme Court. We need to let the Senate know how we feel about an individual who has been proposed for appointment. The best way for us to let the Senate know our feelings is to contact the Senators from our state. In fact, it might not hurt to write our Senators every once in a while, just to remind them that we, the people, are still here at home. I'm afraid they may forget that simple fact occasionally.—BC

Post Office Asks One Side Addresses

The Post Office Department has issued a reminder about addressing parcels on more than one side. Confusion arises because of the practice of writing the name and address on two or more sides, as some mailers do.

The practice sometimes causes parcels to be rated "postage due" before it is discovered that the postage has been affixed to another side, thereby causing extra handling and delay. Address parcels for mailing on one side only and include your return address in the upper lefthand corner, the Post Office advises.

The department also reminds patrons that it is now permissible to include letters inside packages if one writes on the outside of the parcel, "Letter Enclosed," or "Writing Enclosed" and puts an extra three cent stamp on the outside of the parcel.

NEWS LETTER

FROM CONGRESSMAN WALTER ROGERS
OF THE 18TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

The VA Housing Situation
Some 20 members of Congress, including the undersigned, have introduced bills to provide for a six year extension of the G. I. Loan Guaranty Program.

Although this program has had much criticism from some sources, its basic purpose was highly commendable, and had it been pursued with rigid cooperation between the money interests of this country and the Veterans Administration, much of the criticism directed at it would have never arisen.

It is my opinion that the program generally has been highly successful, and the opportunities afforded under it have made a tremendous contribution to the economy of this country. Its results have helped to build one of the greatest bulwarks we have against communism — "home ownership."

It is true that there has been some maladministration of the program. We have had our share in the Panhandle.

As a matter of fact, I am working on several cases at the present time in which I feel that a veteran is not receiving from the Veterans Administration the consideration Congress intended.

I expect to get to the bottom of these cases and see that the responsibility is placed where it belongs.

The money interests of this country have also engaged in some practices which to me are not in keeping with good conscience. I have reference to the excessive discounts that have been charged for handling the G. I. loan paper.

The big money institutions have gone entirely too far in exacting tribute for financing these loans. It is true that these extra charges are not placed directly against the veteran.

The reason for this is the law will not permit the veteran to pay these unconscionable charges directly. The truth is that in a substantial number of the G. I. loan cases, the veteran is being indirectly saddled with these excessive charges.

In other words, he is having to pay a price for the house that is higher than it is actually worth. The difference between the actual worth of the house and what the veteran is having to pay is the amount of the excessive charges being exacted by the moneyed interests of this country before they will finance these loans.

For instance, if a veteran is financing his house with a $10,000 mortgage, and the loan company is requiring a 5 per cent discount, it will only put up $9,500 for the $10,000 mortgage. This means that somebody must pay the $500. There are instances where this discount has gone much higher.

In other cases the lending institutions have refused to loan money on veterans loan programs because the houses were situated in smaller towns and communities. This required the Congress to set up a direct government loan program to meet the needs of these veterans in the less populated districts.

It is difficult for many of us to understand how these lending institutions can justify their continual preaching of "free enterprise," and then engage in such practices as above related that will eventually destroy free enterprise.

We hope that the G. I. Loan Program will be extended for six years and that the bad practices and the maladministration will be corrected so that every veteran may have the opportunity to own a piece of America that he so patriotically defended.

The ones I have talked to are not asking to be given anything. All they want is a fair and honest opportunity to own a home for themselves and their families and to be treated fairly and honestly in their dealings to obtain such a home.

I sincerely hope that some of these money-changers who seem to be infesting the temple will awaken to the fact that some of their practices in regard to the VA Program and also the FHA Program are not exactly in keeping with some people's ideas of honesty.

Taxes

Our good friend, Judge Luther Gribble, over at Wellington has written me about a Constitutional Amendment to limit the taxing powers of the Congress on the incomes of the people.

Judge Gribble is certainly to be commended for his part at the Democratic Precinct Convention and the County Convention concerning his support of a Resolution asking that the Constitution be amended to so limit income taxing power.

This is a matter that has been before the Congress in several different forms, but Judge Gribble's approach is much more acceptable than some of the others.

He recommends that the limitation on the taxing power be graduated so that the taxing power increases as the size of the income increases.

Judge Gribble and I are in agreement that the best way to stop wasteful spending is to limit the power to procure the money through tax channels and to keep a ceiling on the debt-making power.

Those who have opposed the limitation on income taxing power take the position that such limitation would tie the hands of government officials to meet emergency defense requirements or defense requirements generally. This argument, of course, falls on its face because the Congress and the President can exercise such powers as may be necessary to meet any emergencies confronting this country.

The existence of a real emergency creates the basis for the exercise of governmental power that could subject to government control and domination all of the human and material resources of this nation and its possessions.

Let us hope that such an emergency never comes about, but at the same time, let us realize that a power, much greater than the power to tax, would be necessary to meet such an emergency, and that the limitation on the power to tax would not mean that such an emergency could not be met.

HOT TIME IN THE DUGOUT—Milwaukee Braves' first baseman Joe Adcock, left, and third sacker Ed Mathews warm their hands at an infrared heater in the dugout of Milwaukee County Stadium. Installation of the devices is one of the first in a United States sports facility. Designed for outdoor use where heat can be focused at a desired spot without an attempt to heat all outdoors, the infrared heaters have found wide spread use in Europe at outdoor restaurants and sports stadia.

agency never comes about, but at the same time, let us realize that a power, much greater than the power to tax, would be necessary to meet such an emergency, and that the limitation on the power to tax would not mean that such an emergency could not be met.

AFRAID

The accused had been duly convicted when it was proven on further evidence that he had actually been in prison at the time the act was committed.

"Why didn't you say so?" demanded the judge of the prisoner. "Well," said the man apologetically, "I was afraid of prejudicing the jury against me."

KILL ALL SPECIES OF WIREWORM WITH A SINGLE

seed treatment

NEWLY SEEDING FIELDS make good feeding grounds for true and false wireworms and other soil insects. If there is not enough moisture in the soil to permit quick sprouting, seeds are vulnerable to insect attack for several days. But the threat of wireworm damage should be recognized at all times.

A dieldrin preventive seed treatment is a sure way to protect small grain seeds until they sprout.

LOW-COST PROTECTION

It costs just pennies per acre to treat seed with dieldrin, but dollars per acre to feed the wireworms untreated seed! A dieldrin seed treatment prevents "spotty" stands... eliminates the expense of time and money for re-planting or sowing extra seed for the wireworms to feed on... assures you of a longer grazing period. And dieldrin does not harm plant development.

COMPATIBLE WITH FUNGICIDES

Dieldrin is compatible with fungicides... can be applied at the same time to save the expense and work of a double treatment. You can buy dieldrin-treated seed from your seed dealer, or treat the seed yourself. Dieldrin can be applied as a slurry, dry, or in a grain drill. A convenient method is to apply dieldrin to the seed in the grain drill as you plant. Follow directions on the label for the particular formulation you buy.

LESS WORK AT PLANTING TIME

Seed can be treated now and stored until planting time. Dieldrin eliminates the rush of treating seed and planting within a few days. Dieldrin formulations are available throughout the small grain growing area. See your local supplier.

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

Two outstanding Texans, who have contributed greatly to the cultural and educational life of Texas, were honored by the Texas Heritage Foundation.

Miss Ima Hogg of Houston received the Texan Woman of the Year award.

Texan Man of the Year honors went to H. H. Coffield of Rockdale.

Awards were presented by Foundation President Paul Wakefield at a banquet where Governor Shivers, honorary chairman of the Foundation, was principal speaker.

Miss Hogg is the daughter of the first native Texan to serve as its Chief Executive. Said Wakefield, "She has lived and furthered her great family tradition of service to humanity that was passed on to her by her illustrious father."

Of Coffield he said: "After graduating with highest honors from the university of adversity, in the rural area of Milam County, Pete Coffield lingered on the campus at Rockdale to become his native city's first citizen. His genius for multiple affairs and love of people soon spread his horizon to the borders of his state and beyond."

"No stock of the Karisch Co. was sold to the public," said Huffman. "Nor have any of the officers named received any commissions."

In its allegations the state accused American Guaranty of collecting "gross and exorbitant commissions" on stock sales.

Insurance Change Sought

Just how valuable are treatments with fire-resistant chemicals, when it comes to reducing insurance risks? This question will be decided by the Texas Insurance Commission.

Texas Chemical Fireproofing Co. has asked that insurance credit on chemically fireproofed public buildings be extended from 15 to 25 per cent. Sen. Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo, representing the company, made the application.

A group of casualty companies, represented by the Texas Insurance Advisory Association, opposes the change.

Election Law Change Viewed
A movement to insure reporters the right to cover precinct conventions may be spearheaded by the Texas Press Association.

Under the Texas Election Code only a qualified voter in the precinct may "vote, be present at, or participate in, the business of such a convention."

TPA President Russell W. Bryant has suggested deletion of the words "be present at" from the law. He indicated the matter would probably be considered at the TPA convention in Amarillo next month.

Three precinct chairmen in Travis County refused reporters admission to conventions this year.

LISTEN TO THE STARS—That's what Harvard's astronomers plan to do with this 60-foot diameter radio-telescope at Agassiz Station, Mass. Largest in the United States, the "ear" is designed to pick up electrical impulses from stars as far as one hundred million light years into space. (A light year is equivalent to the distance traveled by a beam of light in one year at the rate of 186,000 miles per second.)

BY LOUISE ALLEN

We've long respected the intelligence of the dog and the horse. At times we've even felt grudging admiration for the family cat. But only this week have we had occasion to wonder if birds, too, aren't smarter than folks.

Take this business of summer. People look at the calendar to know when summer comes. When the weather gets warm and roses bloom in all the dooryards, they begin to wonder. But if the calendar says it's May, they go trudging back to their year-round treadmill, until the calendar says June. Then it's fishing time.

But in our backyard Sunday afternoon, we heard a mocking bird express a much more reliable opinion of the season. His happy, relaxed song caught the mood of fishing as surely as does the dragon fly dancing above a sunny pool on a hot summer day.

Because of people, our schools are geared all wrong. For when Nature says take off your shoes, get out in the yard and get a suntan, what do the schools say? Bone up for exams! Your future is at stake! Get busy! Burn the midnight oil!

Is it any wonder that teachers get credit for being satanic slave-drivers — while everyone loves a bird? By association with The System — set up by folks who judge seasons by the calendar instead of the heart — the teacher is guilty. Little do the very young realize that teachers — underneath their trim shirtwaist dresses and sensible shoes — are sometimes people, too. And what seems to be a fiendish urge to make their young charges stay in line is often a whip for themselves — to keep their own eyes on the blackboard instead of the trout stream.

Plans Nursery Summer School

Mrs. David Kaplan, former youth and social worker, is planning a nursery play group for 3 and 4 year olds this summer in her home.

To be conducted during the morning hours, Mrs. Kaplan said the group must be limited to about five or six children at the beginning. The Kaplans are building a new home, and when it is completed, Mrs. Kaplan said she would be able to handle 12 to 15 children.

She supervised children's play groups in Rock Island, Ill., for two years prior to moving to Canyon. Her husband is a music instructor at West Texas State College. They live at 2200 Sixth Avenue.

Mrs. Kaplan has degrees in psychology and sociology from Oberlin College and Roosevelt University, and has had training in child education and nursery schools.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By
BOYCE HOUSE

When Mark Twain was a young newspaper reporter during the Nevada gold rush, he wrote a fantastic story, with great wealth of detail, for the amusement of his readers.

There was a stretch of desert that no one had ever been able to cross on foot because of the intense heat (according to Mark). But an inventor devised a suit, somewhat like that of a deep-sea diver, equipped with a cooling apparatus, and announced that he was going to conquer the desert.

Great interest was aroused; many bets were made and a large crowd was on hand to see the start. The intrepid man put on the suit and, after the helmet had been fastened, he waved and started off.

Next day, on the other side of the desert, a large crowd was waiting to greet him—if he succeeded. But the hours went by and he did not appear. So, the following day, a searching party set out on horseback and found him—dead; dead in the middle of the desert. On a terrifically hot July day, in that cooling suit, he had frozen to death!

Editors chuckled and clipped Mark's production and republished it.

At last, the article crossed the Atlantic and one day there came a telegram relaying a cablegram, a query to the mining camp newspaper from a London editor: "Please send details of the mechanism of the invention."

Sarah Bernhardt, greatest actress of her time, received a drama editor in her dressing room while she was preparing to play the role of Cleopatra. A maid was tinting the "divine Sarah's" toe-nails. The visitor said, "But the audience can't see your toes; they will not know that they are tinted."

She replied, "Yes—but I will." To play the part of a queen, she wanted to be a queen, to the tip of her toes.

Tower of Pisa leans farther; may be rebuilt.

Six Students Are Made Distinguished

Designation of "Distinguished Military Students" has been awarded to six junior Reserve Officers' Training Corps cadets at West Texas State College, according to Col. Raymond H. Lumry.

Upon graduation from college, the six can be given direct Army commissions by maintaining high scholarship and military science records. Selection is based on qualities of leadership, aptitude for military service and general scholarship.

Those chosen were Herman Betke of Borger, Gregory Dorrough of Amarillo, Robert Hood of Borger, Ralph Green of Canyon, Charles Julian of Lockney, and James Coleman of Amarillo.

Brock Takes Leave For Doctorate Study

A leave of absence to study toward his doctorate at the University of Texas has been granted to Luther A. Brock Jr., instructor in business administration at West Texas State College.

President James P. Cornette has announced that Brock will be off the WT campus for a year. He plans to enter the University this summer.

Brock joined the WT staff in 1954, following completion of work on his M.B.A. degree at North Texas State College. He also earned the B.B.A. degree at NTSC, where he was a teaching fellow.

A building program for the West Texas State College Wesley Foundation will be recommended to the annual session of the Northwest Texas Conference Methodists May 23 through 27 in Big Spring.

Electric cooking — and only electric cooking — with its pre-set, perfectly controlled temperature can guarantee the good results every time demanded by outstanding homemakers like Mrs. Donnell.

And only electric cooking combines perfect results with perfect styling. As Mrs. Donnell says: "Convenience and space-saving features, plus contemporary styling, led us to choose a built-in electric range when we redecorated our kitchen." Mrs. Donnell, incidentally, has used an electric range for several years. Her new built-ins are just modernizing the modern for her, so to speak.

Mrs. Donnell's new electric surface units fold into the wall when not in use — providing extra counter space. Only super-safe electric cooking could offer this fold-away feature.

Accurate, modern, space-saving and safe. These tests or any other that you might choose can be met best when they're met by an electric range. Try one and see.

County-man, Knock Down That Tree

A county road maintainer Tuesday afternoon pulled down five of the trees on the courthouse lawn that must be removed to make room for the courthouse annex to be built by the county.

Two county prisoners spent much of Monday afternoon and Tuesday digging ditches around the trees and chopping the roots.

Eight trees must be removed to make way for the new building, which is expected to start soon. All of those to be removed are elms.

A dozen or so spectators gathered to watch the trees pulled down, and one termed the work of the prisoners as the "first groundbreaking" for the new building.

County Buys More Right of Way; Accepts Bid for Road Paving

Purchase of six parcels of land needed for right of way for the expressway was approved by the county commission Monday afternoon, and Right of Way Agent Lanham Nelson said that all right of way needed for the highway to Happy has been acquired.

One parcel, that belonging to Jack Livesay, was condemned and the award of the condemnation commission has been appealed to the county court by the county commissioners. The land may be taken if needed if the county puts the amount of the award in escrow.

The commissioners also accepted a bid from Cooper and Woodruff of Amarillo for construction of 3.55 miles of paving on a county road south of Palo Duro highway. The contract bid was $29,644.50, and includes an item of $7,150 for stockpiling caliche for later road construction.

Two other bids were received. The high bid was $33,030 from Ivan Dement of Amarillo.

Right of way purchases approved were from Clyde E. Bray, Hubert Bandy and Viola Ballard, Carl D. and Earl E. Kunkel, W. J. Hacker and Alvin Hacker, V. E. Lundgreen and Hal Zumwalt.

Dr. Masters Heads Heart Association

Two Canyon citizens were elected to office in the North Plains District Heart Association during the annual district meeting in Borger Sunday.

Dr. Bert A. Masters was elected president, and Mrs. Ethel Mullins was elected secretary-treasurer. Others elected during the meeting were Dr. H. H. Latson of Amarillo, president-elect, Mrs. Tera Wilkinson, vice president-elect, Paul Romine, chairman of the board of directors.

Retiring president of the district association is Dr. David Marceley of Amarillo. The past secretary-treasurer was Robert E. Rook of Amarillo.

Plans for a district seminar for doctors will be worked out and announced later this year. Last year, the association invited three famous heart specialists who conducted a seminar for 26 Panhandle doctors.

Following the general meeting, the board of directors held a meeting. Members of the board present were Romine, Mrs. Dudley Wilkinson, Mrs. Earl W. Wyatt, Mrs. Louise Barbour, Mrs. Buster S. Pool, Mrs. Mullins, Dr. Latson, Dr. Horace E. Wolfe and W. O. Bryant.

Also attending the meeting was Edgar Brown of Houston, director of the State Heart Association.

The next annual meeting of the district will be in Dumas on the third Sunday in May, 1957.

Schedule Speech, Hearing Clinic

A speech and hearing clinic for people throughout the Panhandle will be open this summer at West Texas State College. Corrective instruction on a weekly, or more often, basis will be given at no charge, according to Dr. Crannell Tolliver, head of the speech department.

Children and adults with all types of speech and hearing disorders are invited to participate in the clinic, which will be located in the college health center.

"We are seeking to assist as many people as possible, ranging from those with more serious disorders to those who have difficulty in speaking distinctly and pronouncing words properly," Dr. Tolliver said.

The clinic will be conducted by appointment by Dr. Wendell Cain, associate professor of speech, assisted by qualified clinical assistants, most of whom are advanced students, therapists and other teachers in special education. The college medical staff will be available for conferences and special assistance.

Dr. Cain plans to begin clinical work June 4, with the opening of WT's first summer session, and he urged that those wishing assistance contact him or Dr. Tolliver as soon as possible. Appointments can be made through the WT speech department or the college health center.

For the past four years Dr. Tolliver has conducted special hearing tests and clinics in a number of Panhandle school systems.

Boys Organize For Safe Driving

The first official meeting of the Canyon timing association was held last week. The officers are president, Carl Hollabaugh, vice president, Boz Zachry, secretary, Ted Fowler, treasurer, Slat Wheeler and business manager, Ray Mills.

The club name decided upon was "The Orchids." Chief of Police George Roden, who attended the meeting and offered full support, said, "The aims of the club are to promote safe driving, setting an example for all drivers, and to try to improve relations between so-called hot rodders and the citizens of Canyon."

"The members of the club feel that modifying stock cars is a wholesome activity for teenagers with idle time," says Chief Roden. The club is planning an all day car wash this Saturday at the City barn one block north of the police station. A wash and polish job will be $8. The wash alone will be $1.

The club plans to build a dragster to enter in the drags in Amarillo in the future. Also planned is a club trip through New Mexico, Colorado, Wyoming, Idaho, Washington, California and Mexico.

Approximately 100 members of the three night classes will display paintings, crafts, weaving, designs, figure drawing, and other media. The public is invited.

BELLAH'S SUPER MARKET

Canyon, Texas

Around the Town..

By DOVIE CHERRY

Ugh! Heap Big powwow. That's what some of the clerks in Cooper's Market have had, and they have decided that since the customers have had the chance to name Canyon's star clerk that the clerks should have the opportunity to get into the act.

Feeling that turn about is fair play, two of the clerks spoke up and said that they would collect a $5 prize if AROUND THE TOWN would advertise the fact that another contest is underway.

So here comes another contest, fast on the heels of the first. This one is exclusive; only clerks may vote. And for what? For Canyon's most courteous customer! In this contest, the clerks have the opportunity to name the customer who has helped make their work more pleasant. But they also have the opportunity to tell just what they don't like about you and me.

It pays the clerk well to remember that the customer is always right, and to stand up bravely and face the verbal volcano. But remember the customer is not always right, and here is where we find out about it.

But, before you clerks get too vehement, I might pass along a compliment given by one customer who said, "I have never encountered a discourteous clerk in Canyon."

How many discourteous Canyon customers have clerks encountered? And how many are just plain swell? Write to Dovie Cherry, Box 928, Canyon, Texas, and make your nomination and comments if you desire.

Deadline for nominations must be postmarked midnight June 1. Canyon's most courteous customer will be announced in the June 6 edition of The Canyon News.

How About That

As the years march by, a lot of people would like to stop the birthday clock at about 30 years or so and then regard every birthday from there on as pure coincidence.

But two teenagers have had birthdays recently that are coincidences. Janis and Carroll Wright, daughter and son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Wright, can rightly regard their birthdays as something very different this year, for Janis was 18 on May 18 and Carroll was 16 on May 16.

There are quite a few new homes going up over town, and one of the newest is the Royal Brantley home.

Having lived in their new home for only a few weeks, Royal, Charlotte and the children are all just as pleased as punch about the whole house. Spacious, comfortable, attractive and a model of modern convenience, the home is something to be pleased about.

The seven room house, plus hall, and two baths, was built on Ninth Avenue, and is of light red brick. The interior has modern styling and features an aqua color scheme.

The entrance leads into three rooms, the one to the right being the living room which features a brick wall that gives a homey touch and a bit of outdoor flair. Windows with large aqua panels facing the south are used not only in this room, but in the activity room and dining room as well.

The dining room is of moderate size and the first things which caught my attention were the Japanese paintings on the walls. Paneled windows face the north.

Dividing the dining room and activity room is a very handy portable storage cabinet. A striking black and white plastic type flooring gives wear and gaiety to the activity room where the piano, television, lounging chairs, and all purpose table are kept. Bright red covers for the piano and television make a break in the aqua theme and add an informal brightness to the room.

A black and white plastic-type covering has been placed on the cabinet tops, and the interior of the cabinets is finished in a bright red. The appliances are in a conspicuous square and are placed to give a convenient arm reach from refrigerator to stove.

Black curved handles which are on all the cabinets and shelves in the house add contrast and drama.

The black and white floor in the activity room is continued in the hall which leads to the bedrooms, linen closets, furnace and water heater closets and bath. The children's bath is in white tile and is with paper of bright fish on black background.

Royal and Charlotte's bedroom is decorated with aqua and gold paper and pink ceiling. The adjoining bathroom of pink tile features a large dressing table of aqua tile.

One of the children's bedrooms is in aqua and has a unique red and white striped ceiling; a very merry room. The other bedroom features walls with leaping deers. The Brantley's even have a red telephone and a catchy number, OL 5-4444, to go with it.

Mrs. J. ne Scott, Simplicity Pattern representative who gave a discussion on home sewing May 15 at the Branding Iron Theatre, says the main thing wrong with women's figures is that they need to shift from low gear to high.

Mrs. Scott suggested to glamorize or change the mood of your dress that you try sewing a row of buttons on a ribbon and simply button up with these instead of the regular buttons.

I suppose one of the greatest warm weather joys for young and old alike is swimming, and for the small fry the best thing to swimming to going out on the lawn and doing a high step dance in the sprinkler or shaking with delight in a spray from a hose.

Sunday afternoon, one young lady had her share of both delights. Returning from the swimming pool, still wearing her fireman red bathing suit, she was stopped by a sprinkler blocking the walk. For a moment, she paused, clutched thoughtfully her bundle of towel, blue jeans, shirt and ballerinas. She then turned her head to the side, put her bundle of clothes on the walk and smiling impishly, tip-toed to the spraying water.

For a moment, she hesitated, hands stretched out to test the temperature of the spray, and then with an impulsive jump, the girl landed in the middle of the water.

She pranced back and forth quickly, head back and mouth open to a big round "O," and just as quickly, the young water-lover picked up her bundle and with a very definite strut that tossed her blonde 'mixing-bowl' cut in the wind, the little lady, every bit a queen, swung along home.

And from the porches and windows, "youngsters," too old, according to decorum, to enjoy such antics, sighed enviously at the self-satisfied smile produced by such a simple joy of life.

Making Your Clothes? Go Ahead, 's Still Stylish, Says Authority

Is sewing going out of style? Mrs. Jane Scott, Simplicity Pattern representative who gave a special discussion on home sewing at the Branding Iron Theatre, says, "No. According to a report by the pattern industry, 100,000,000 patterns are being purchased each year and that an estimated 500,000,000 garments are made from these patterns." Mrs. Scott demonstrated how to make alterations in patterns and recommended keeping a recipe book for sewing in which the woman may keep measurements of dresses that fit well to serve as a guide for alterations.

She says, "I feel that it is important that people know that patterns are fitted for the largest number of people for the least number of alterations, and since not all women are made alike they must sometimes be alterations."

After showing how one dress pattern can be made with a large number of fabrics to suit each occasion and season, Mrs. Scott demonstrated the use of accessories to camouflage physical defects and their use to change the mood of the garment.

In conclusion, Mrs. Scott said, "God has given something very special to us and we are to do something very special with what he has given us."

Rotation Grazing Needed on Pasture

COLLEGE STATION—Once a cultivated pasture is established, management largely determines its productivity, says E. M. Trew, extension pasture specialist.

Good grazing management on cultivated pastures requires rotation grazing. Up to half of the forage produced can be wasted if livestock are permitted to graze continuously on a pasture.

Cut the pasture into small blocks, advises Trew, and graze the forage off in a hurry. Then shift the livestock to another block.

Electric fences can be used for dividing the pastures. This method of grazing keeps the plants vigorous and the rest periods permit them to build their root systems.

If forage production gets ahead of the animals, use the surplus for hay or silage. Few Texas beef or dairy operators ever get excessive feed reserves on hand, says Trew but many failures result from inadequate reserves.

Mowing is an important part of pasture management for it will control weeds and small brush and keep the plants growing and producing nutritious forage. When forage plants approach maturity, their protein and mineral content drops, fiber content increases and they become less palatable.

Without adequate fertility to produce good growth, other management practices are wasted, says Trew. A ton of grass hay contains about 30 pounds of nitrogen, 10 pounds of phosphoric acid and 30 pounds of potash.

A ton of legume hay contains about 30 per cent more of these nutrients, points out the specialist. A soil test will show how much and what kind of fertilizers are needed.

Finally, Trew points out that cattle grazing on lush, fast growing pasture need some dry hay. Such hay should be available either in hay racks or strips can be mowed in the pasture and left for the cattle to pick up as they need it.

JUST A LITTLE HELP

"A most unusual request," commented the angel, "but you shall have them."

"And 10,000 alto singers and 10,000 tenors," continued the senator, in his customary, dictatorial manner.

"Very well, brother," the angel replied, "but—er—how about the basses?"

"Never mind about them," said the senator, with an impatient wave of his hand. "I will sing bass."

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Mount Vernon, Washington, is not huge as towns go. In fact, its population is less than 10,000.

Usually, the most noteworthy fact about Mount Vernon, Washington, is that the U. S. A. is filled with Mount Vernons. On them depends the future, and prosperity of the nation, for each is a citadel of strength.

But bureaucrats getting together in some famous large city of C. W. Harder the world either forget this fundamental fact about the land, if indeed they ever knew it.

But what makes Mount Vernon, Washington noteworthy to single out here is that in this town there is a John Vander Pol operating a small business under the name of Westside Welding.

Located in a center of the northwest dairy industry, Mr. Vander Pol developed a special type of pasture harrow which he has been manufacturing and selling. Due to excellence of his product, he enjoyed a tidy little business. Not a vast business listed on Wall Street, but nevertheless, quite important to Mr. Vander Pol, his employees, and to the Mount Vernon economy.

But now Mr. Vander Pol is faced with a problem he cannot solve himself, and in fact, a problem not of his making. A comparable piece of equipment is being shipped in from Holland without a cent of tariff duty and is being sold at a price under his production costs.

Senator Warren Magnuson recently queried U. S. Tariff Commission about this.

Edgar Broassard, tariff commission chairman, replied with a very interesting answer. He first pointed out that Congress in the tariff act of 1930 exempted from import duty agricultural equipment, and that only Congress can change this ruling.

But his further comments to a U. S. Senator on what Congress can do are most interesting.

For he goes on to state that pursuant to concessions granted in the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade, effective January 1, 1949, the duty free status of harrows was bound and imposition of a duty on such articles while this obligation is in effect would be a violation of U. S. international commitments.

This appears an astounding statement. First, the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade is one of the offshoots of the United Nations. Thus, U. S. representatives to an international convention extended perhaps into perpetuity an act of Congress without Congress knowing it.

New it is held in official circles that the Congress of the United States, constitutionally the nation's sovereign governing body, is powerless to take any action.

In connection with this, it is important to bear in mind that early in 1956 State Department is attending another one of these international clambakes on tariffs. According to advance reports, State Dept. is prepared to sell down river U. S. producers of some 1,000 different items.

This report started out on the matter . . . harrows. But as consideration grows on what could, and probably will happen at this conference early in 1956, the story becomes harrowing. Only ray of hope is Congress will again take over reins. But time runs short, because if present course continues unchecked much longer, U. S. Congress can become a mere rubber stamp.

Fairview Breezes

Brother Billy Jo Hall preached a fine sermon for us Sunday morning. There was no service at the church Sunday evening as they were dismissed so everyone who wished could attend the baccalaureate services at Happy. Jane Collier, who is a member of our church, is a member of the graduating class. She plans on entering nurses training at Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo.

Mary Kate and Mike Denny visited Sunday in the John Patterson home.

A card from Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Schaeffer in Philadelphia says they are having a grand time seeing lots of sights and are all well.

The Raford Shipman family visited his parents over the weekend at Seymour.

Neal James, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wyley James, was honor guest of Charlene Wesley at the Future Homemakers Jamboree on Happy Thursday.

Jack and Art Foster are both confined at home with the mumps.

Mrs. Irene James entertained the home demonstration club Friday afternoon with seven members and our demonstrator who gave an interesting demonstration on files — a place for all valuable papers. Punch and cookies were served to Anna Read, Fernie Wilson, Lizzie Wesley, Annie Wesley, Serena Bryan, Mrs. Hildreth and the hostess.

Mrs. Georgia Rogers left for Chicago by train Thursday afternoon to care for her daughter, Mrs. Don Stoneberg, and brand new grandson born Wednesday.

Saturday and Sunday, May 26-27, are the days for the Wesley reunion so come and enjoy yourself.

Billy Jo Hall visited Sunday with the Vernon Colliers. Mrs. Hall was unable to accompany Billy to the services.

We are glad to have the O'Connell's as visitors to our church.

Mrs. Serena Bryan visited with Mrs. Alvin Wesley and Mrs. Ora Evans in Happy Thursday.

Artie Pearson is in Denver, Colo., for a check-up.

Elsie Pearson is still confined at home with rheumatic fever.

J. W. Wesley attended the sale in Tulia Friday.

Those enjoying "88" in the G. E. Wesley home Wednesday evening were the J. W. Wesleys, and the Frank Rogers.

Chemical Prevents Cattle Grub Growth

COLLEGE STATION—Livestock producers got good and cattle grubs bad news recently when the U. S. Department of Agriculture announced that for the first time the common cattle grub, experimentally, had been prevented from developing within cattle.

The chemical, designated for experimental purposes as Dow ET-57, is systemic. It moves through the bodies of cattle to destroy grubs wherever they may occur in the animal's flesh.

Research is currently in progress to determine the suitability of ET-57 in terms of grub control, toxic effects on the animals and chemical residues in milk or flesh.

The men responsible for research with ET-57 are entomologists G. W. Eddy and A. R. Roth of the ARS laboratory at Corvallis, Ore., and W. S. McGregor and R. C. Bushland of the Service's Kerrville, Texas, Station. Veterinarian R. D. Radeoff, also at Kerrville, has carried on research to determine toxicity of ET-57.

Cattle grubs cost the livestock industry an estimated $100 million a year in losses of meat, milk and damaged hides. The pest is currently controlled by the use of the insecticide rotenone.

However, it goes into effect only after the grub has spent some seven months developing as a parasite within the body of the animal.

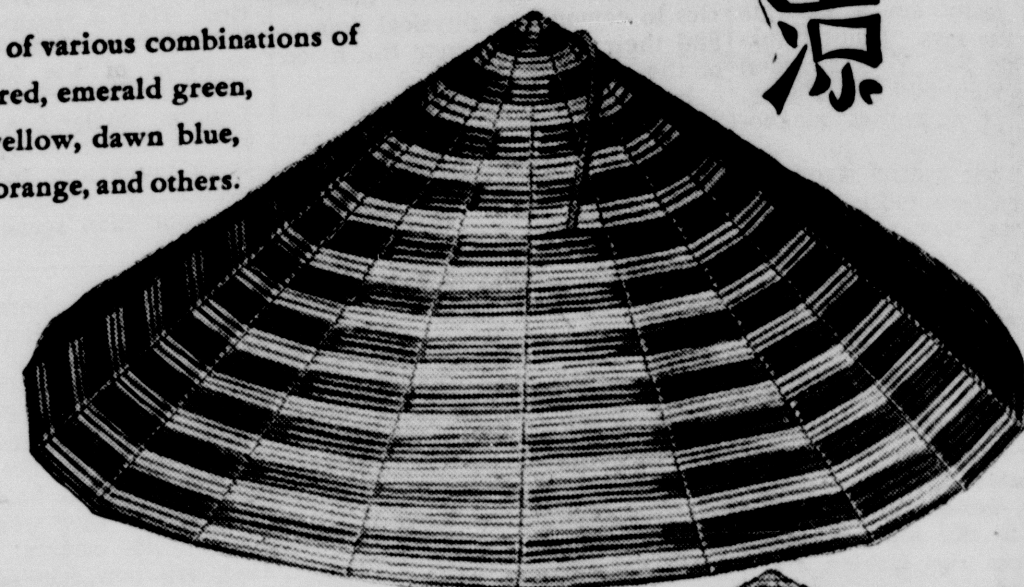

ET-57 is not the first system to control cattle grubs but is first to prevent their emergence.

In the Kerrville tests last year the systemic was fed to grubs infested cattle at the rate of milligrams per kilogram of animal weight (a 1,000 pound animal would receive 1.6 ounces).

Treatment was made 2 to 3 months before grubs normally appear in the backs of cattle. One grub appeared in the back of four out of five treated cattle while 98 grubs appeared in the backs of five similar but untreated cattle. At Corvallis it was 86 per cent effective in preventing development.

Did you ever allow the silver dollar to preach you a sermon? Beyond the glorious flag of our country is a spiritual homeland, to which we all belong. The red and the white and the blue are colors of living glory, reminding us of the history which has brought us where we stand today. They are the colors of life. They speak of courage and sacrifice and devotion. And just as clearly, the silver dollar calls us to live for something more than money. What a strange place to print a text for a sermon; on a silver dollar or on a greenback. Our forefathers were aware of the dangers which would threaten their children...so they sought to give us warning...In God We Trust.

BACK of our money is a nation, without which the silver or the paper would have precious little value. On every dollar bill we see the face of George Washington, a man who sacrificed everything he had, that America might come into being in the form of The United States. E pluribus unum must forever shame us out of selfishness and self-seeking. "Out of many one" must forever emerge. Each of us must live for the rest, or the sacrifices of Valley Forge and the Delaware have gone for naught. Our money is forever saying to us, "look away from us; think of the nation; consider your fellow Americans; worship the living God. So shall the United States be a worthy member of the family of nations, of the family of God."
